Sunday BEST!

Easter Sunday lunch wouldn't be complete without a leg of 'new season' spring lamb on the table. Spring lamb, also called early or summer lamb, is 3 to 5 months old. It is very tender and has a more delicate flavour. Perfect marinated with Garlic & Rosemary and slowly Roasted to bring out all those lovely flavours. Great paired with a Sweet Potato Mash, Roast Root Vegetables and Rich Roast gravy.

Tasting Notes - Warm red hue with strawberry, cherry and cassis on the nose. Soft tannins. Good length. Serving suggestions - Room temperature. Food Match - Beef, Lamb, Game, Chicken, Turkey, Oily Fish, Cheese.

Compostable Range

Biodegradable. Compostable. Recyclable.

These are terms that are increasingly used by companies to describe their product. But does choosing one over the other make a real difference? Well, to be able to make a more informed decision for your next purchase, here is the breakdown of what each term means!

Biodegradable

Biodegradable products are those that are capable of being decomposed with the help of bacteria and other organisms. As compared to non-biodegradable products, they do not require any use of chemicals for decomposition. Hence, they are less environmentally damaging.

Compostable

If an item is certified compostable it means that it will break down into nutrient-rich soil within an 8-12 week time-frame when commercially composted. Compostable Packaging does not need to go to our already overcrowded landfills, instead it can be organically recycled along with food waste in the brown bin.

Recyclable

As defined by ISO 14021, being recyclable is the “characteristic of a product, packaging, or associated component that can be diverted from the waste stream through available processes and programmes and can be collected, processed, and returned to use in the form of raw materials or products”. In layman’s term, recyclable products can be turned into something new.
